

II International Conference on Culture and Society Which kind of Literacy (s) for an Economic and Social Justice?

27th and 28th of May, 2021
Zambeze University- Mozambique

Due to restrictions related to COVID-19, the Organizing Committee of the “II International Conference on Culture and Society Which kind of Literacy (s) for an Economic and Social Justice?”, due for the 17th and 18th of September, 2020, decided to postpone it to the 27th and 28th of May, 2021. The event will be held both on-line and in-person, in order to avoid inconveniences related to travel restrictions

Call for Papers

Conceived as a space for reflection, research and debate, a privileged space for dialogue in favor of scientific and cultural research, the “II International Conference on Literature and Cultures in Portuguese Language” will take place at the Zambeze University, on 27th and 28th of May, 2021. This second conference, to be held in Mozambique, has the specific feature of incorporating content from the most diverse areas of knowledge, namely in the field of letters and social sciences, as well as in the legal and economic sciences. For this reason, the second conference is specifically called “International Conference on Cultures & Society – Which kind of Literacy (s) for an Economic and Social Justice?”. The additional reason beyond the thematic extension is related to the fact that the Zambeze University celebrated, in December 2019, its first decade, configuring, for this, an impulse that leads us to approach themes inextricably linked to the arts and humanities.

This initiative involves CHAM - Centre for the Humanities of FCSH-Universidade NOVA de Lisboa / Universidade dos Açores, the Center for Multidisciplinary Studies (CEM) Eduardo Augusto Kambwa of the Higher Institute of Educational Sciences of Luanda (ISCED-Luanda), the Literary and Artistic Movement Lev’Arte of Angola, the Center for Legal, Economic and Social Research (CIJES) of the Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities (FCSH) of Zambeze University, the Higher Institute of Sciences and Technologies Alberto Chipande (ISCTAC), of Mozambique, and the Communication and Society Research Centre (CECS).

This scientific event - which aims to pay tribute to Heliodoro Baptista (poet) and Romualdo Johnam (musician) - sets up a space for dialogue and for the construction of international networks, addressing contemporary themes that are transversal to various areas of knowledge. From linguistic to legal-economic and socio-cultural policies in the Portuguese-speaking countries to the critical problematization of the concept of Lusophony, from the press, intellectual history, books and culture, publishing, the arts to the impact of female writing on the understanding of the thought expressed in the Portuguese language.

As we live in a time of uncertainty and risk on a global level, compounded by “new” risks, in which human action on nature weakens us in a catastrophic way, the conference will also focus on phenomena that challenge the sphere of theoretical analysis and production about natural and human disasters. The global economy brought with it the “decomposition of the social”, the advance of forces placed above society (war, markets, etc.).

The present time is, in fact, a time of great social vulnerability. Notions such as precariousness and unemployment (or temporary employment), individualization of social relations, fragility of community bonds, feminization of poverty, disqualification and social atomization are objective realities we are dealing with on a daily basis. At last, we live in a time of multiple crisis: the banking one, the one of families, of the State, democracy, values, identity, a religious, environmental, and political one, as well as on a crisis of social equality.

The thematic groups around which reflections will be organized are the followings:
